Designed as a 'home for the future', Concept House is equipped with a variety of technologies, which have been added to by the current owners, and include a digital lighting system in most rooms, CAT7 data points throughout, a commercial fire system, multi-room audio and a Mechanical Ventilation with Heat Recovery (MVHR) system in the master en-suite.

Natural light fills every room, creating an uplifting, airy environment for family living. The open plan layout of the dining kitchen and adjacent lounge allows flexibility for all of the family to enjoy each space individually or as one. Within the dining kitchen, there are a range of integrated appliances by popular brands such as Neff and AEG, along with a breakfast island for casual dining. The importance of practicality has been factored into this home through a play room that is separate from the other main living spaces, plenty of storage cupboards, a boot room and a laundry chute across all four levels, which ends at the useful laundry room on the lower ground floor. There is also a superb cinema room that could be utilised for a variety of requirements.
