STUDY

Dating back to 1904, this majestic property is a triumph of Edwardian splendour.

Its striking façade leaves a lasting impression as soon as you enter the sliding entrance gate and onto the sweeping driveway. Symmetrical design, wonderful stone mullioned bay windows, deep skirtings and high coved ceilings all embody the characterful charm of the home's heritage.

A grand entrance is provided by the entrance vestibule and reception hall, both setting the tone for what awaits. Extending to a length of 36ft, the expansive drawing room presents a magnificent reception room for casual relaxation and occasional entertaining due to its open plan flow into the superb formal dining room. Two stone fireplaces, one housing a Dik Geurts log burner, create attractive focal-points. Just off the drawing room is a light-filled sun room, which leads down to the lower ground floor.

The heart of the home is undoubtedly the living kitchen that has been superbly designed for modern living with a large central island and a comprehensive range of integrated appliances by Gaggenau and Miele. Double doors open to an external seating terrace, allowing a seamless transition for indoor/outdoor living. Adjacent to the living kitchen is a well-equipped preparation kitchen, featuring contemporary cabinetry, appliances and quartz work surfaces.

The ground floor also incorporates a fabulous study that is perfect for working from home, a useful utility room and two lobbies to the left and rear of the home serve as informal entrances.

Occupying the lower ground floor is an excellent entertainment suite. Comprising a sizeable orangery that is ideal for large gatherings, a games room with a functional kitchen/bar and a cinema room, Osborn House has everything you could need for a celebratory event or spending time with family. There are also three useful storage rooms and a gymnasium that offers versatility in its usage.

Across the first floor are three bedroom suites, each offering luxurious spaces for a growing family. A sumptuous sanctuary, the master bedroom sits beneath a vaulted ceiling, which further adds to the vastness of the room, which showcases a large bay window that frames the pleasant vistas. Two dressing rooms accommodate extensive storage, plus an exceptionally spacious en-suite bathroom with a freestanding NK Porcelanosa slipper bath. The second floor houses the fourth bedroom, making it ideal as a teenager's suite with its dressing room, en-suite bathroom and good-sized landing that could be utilised as a sitting/studying area.

The spectacular grounds of Osborn House are exquisitely landscaped, with thoughtful planting designs including multi-stem magnolias, ornamental yew topiary, colourful roses, tall alliums, border-defining low hedges, and much more. Covering the width of the front elevation, a stone flagged terrace overlooks the gardens and views beyond, and allows ample space for multiple areas of comfortable seating. A substantial gravelled terrace sits to the right hand side of the home alongside the entertainment suite, creating a wonderful environment for hosting, along with an outdoor kitchen to the opposite side of the house.

Central stone steps flanked by tiers of neatly shaped box hedging lead down to the cascading lawned gardens, with interconnecting gravelled paths leading to various areas of the landscape.

Located towards the bottom of the plot is a newly installed, full-size tennis court by 'En-Tout-Cas'. Surrounding the court is a beautiful rockery populated by an array of carefully selected plants, and above it is an impressive cedar and oak garden pavilion with a balcony that is perfect for enjoying summer evenings.

Leading from the intercom operated entrance gate is the sweeping gravelled driveway with a parking area that has space for up to ten vehicles and provides access to a detached double garage and adjacent single garage. Above the garaging is 'The Loft', containing a bedroom and bathroom, presenting potential to accommodate guests or dependant relatives.
